

1 – 11 September 2011

WHV – Aného- Glidji

◆ WH Tentative List - Agglomération Aného-Glidji, Togo

To meet the goal of encouraging the communities of Aneho and Glidji to preserve the remains and the cultural authentic practices of Guin people, the site was cleaned, 250 brochures was distributed. In these processes local youths were engaged. Volunteers visited 2 traditional Guin places. There, they planted more than 250 trees to reforest the area. Informative meetings and interviews were organized to sensitize the main stakeholders such as state and local officials on WH importance and need for preservation.

©UNESCO/CCIVS/Les Amis de la Terre-Togo

Volunteer visited residents of area door-to-door and to inform them about WH. As a result, volunteers were able to communicate with local people in personal level. This provided opportunities for volunteers and local residents to freely share their opinions about the heritage in Togo. Some residents posed questions directly to volunteers. All in all, it was extremely useful method to disseminate the WH values.

Organization:

Les Amis de la Terre-Togo

63, rue Amoussimé,

Tokoin Cassablanca, Lome,

Togo, West Africa

Contact: Mensah Amehowolo

cymens14@yahoo.fr

Partners:

CCIVS ; S-J France; Nĭ-MANTCHEE (Chef suprême de la forêt sacrée) ; Ministère des Arts et de la Culture; Ministère de l'Environnement et des Ressources forestières; Direction Nationale du Patrimoine; Préfecture des Lacs, Mairie de la ville d'Aného.

World Heritage Volunteers – "Patrimonto Voluntary Action 2011"

Sources: for the description of the World Heritage site: UNESCO World Heritage List, <http://whc.unesco.org/en/list>

For the description of the activities: www.whvolunteers.org and www.ccivs.org