General Information WHC/24/46.COM/INF.1, p. 3
1. INTRODUCTION

Welcome to India, the vibrant land where ancient heritage meets modern innovation! We are thrilled to announce that New Delhi, the capital of India, has been chosen to host the 46th session of the Committee from 21st July to 31st July 2024.

This prestigious event brings together delegates from across the globe to discuss and collaborate on preserving our shared cultural, natural and mixed heritage. The meeting is a significant step towards fostering global cooperation and ensuring the protection of our World Heritage properties. Join us as we shape the future of our past.

The information document is presented to give a general introduction to the participants of the 46th session of the World Heritage Committee. The practical information included in the document intends to ensure that the participants have all the required information to conveniently plan and realize their visit to the Host Country, India. Kindly be reminded that the official website https://46whcnwdelhi2024.nic.in and the organisers of the 46th session of the Committee are ready to assist you, if you have any further questions.

2. PURPOSE

The World Heritage Committee comprises representatives from 21 States Parties to the World Heritage Convention (1972) elected by the General Assembly of UNESCO. Current members of the World Heritage Committee as on elections in the 24th General Assembly of UNESCO (November 2023), are as follows:

Argentina, Belgium, Bulgaria, Greece, India, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Kazakhstan, Kenya, Lebanon, Mexico, Qatar, Republic of Korea, Rwanda, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, Senegal, Türkiye, Ukraine, Viet Nam, and Zambia

Bureau Members

Chairperson: H.E. Ambassador Mr. Vishal Sharma (India)
Rapporteur: Mr Martin Ouaklani (Belgium)
Vice-Chairpersons: Bulgaria, Greece, Qatar, Kenya and Saint Vincent and the Grenadines

For further information, please visit https://whc.unesco.org/en/committee/

The essential functions of the Committee are:

i. To identify, on the basis of nominations submitted by States Parties, cultural and natural properties of Outstanding Universal Value which are to be protected under the Convention, and to inscribe those properties on the World Heritage List;

ii. To monitor the state of conservation of properties inscribed on the World Heritage List, in liaison with States Parties; decide which properties included in the World Heritage List are to be inscribed on or removed from the List of World Heritage in Danger; decide whether a property may be deleted from the World Heritage List;

iii. To examine requests for International Assistance financed by the World Heritage Fund.
All Working and Information Documents corresponding to the items inscribed on the Agenda of the 46th session will be published and made accessible on the dedicated webpage on the World Heritage Centre’s website at https://whc.unesco.org/en/sessions/46COM as they become available.

3. SESSION ORGANISERS
The Ministry of Culture (MoC), Government of India and its attached office, the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) are the nodal agencies to host the 46th session of the World Heritage Committee in India in 2024. The Archaeological Survey of India is the custodian of 3697 ancient monuments and archaeological sites of national importance in India and is responsible for their protection, preservation and conservation.

For specific requests to the organisers, please find below the relevant contacts:

4. SIDE EVENTS / EXHIBITIONS
For organizing any kind of side event or exhibition, the requests are to be submitted to the UNESCO Secretariat focal point, Ms Caroline Varnet (c.varnet@unesco.org) by 14th June at the latest.

The requester will be required to submit a form with the details regarding the type of event or exhibition the country/institution would like to organize, indicating the characteristics of the required space as well as catering and technical needs.

After receiving clearance from the Secretariat, the requester will be put in contact with the Host Country organisers for any relevant information and details concerning the organization of the event (technical assistance, catering, etc.). Please note that the organisers reserve the right to indicate the space in which the requested event will take place. Though substantial, the space available at the Venue is limited and it may occur that the organisers may not be able to accept all applications for side events.

For more information/queries regarding Side events at the 46th session of the World Heritage Committee, please contact the organisers at the following email address: eve46whc.newdelhi24@gov.in

10.5 PRESS MATERIAL
Official press releases, photographs and live streaming of the 46th session of the World Heritage Committee will be regularly updated and available to download at https://whc.unesco.org/en/sessions/46COM.

A technical briefing for media representatives will be held prior to the session in order to review media protocols and conduct of business of the World Heritage Committee. Media briefings might be held to provide information on proceedings or decisions taken by the Committee and press releases will be issued regularly during the session. The proceedings will also be live-streamed on the website of the session.

UNESCO’s press officers will be present at the Media Centre during the session. In case of additional questions related to media, you may contact the following email addresses:

- Host country: Dr T.J. Alone (med46whc.newdelhi24@gov.in)
- UNESCO Press Office: whcpress2024@unesco.org

11. WORLD HERITAGE YOUNG PROFESSIONALS’ FORUM
As an integral part of the 46th session of the World Heritage Committee, and in the framework of the UNESCO World Heritage Education Programme, the Ministry of Culture, Government of India through its attached office Archaeological Survey of India (ASI), will host the 2024 World Heritage Young Professionals Forum under the theme of ‘World Heritage in the 21st Century: Building Capacities and Exploring Opportunities for Youth’ from 14 to 23 July 2024, at New Delhi.

The Forum serves as a platform by bringing young people and heritage experts together to foster intercultural learning and exchange. It also provides an opportunity for the youth to meet and learn about each other’s heritage, discuss common concerns in preservation and discover new roles for themselves in heritage conservation. Each Forum is focused on a specific topic linked to World Heritage and aligned with the context of the World Heritage properties of the Host Country.

Joined by both local and international experts, young professionals will engage in a diverse range of activities such as presentations, roundtable discussions, and site visits. Together, they will delve into the potential of heritage management, focusing on community involvement and shared participation. This collaborative approach aims to tackle various sub-themes, including:

- Understanding the achievements and challenges of the World Heritage Convention
- Climate change and its impact on World Heritage sites
- Integrating innovative technologies for the promotion of World Heritage
- Leveraging World Heritage conservation as a participative approach alongside with communities
- Strengthening sustainable tourism and development through young entrepreneurship
As pivotal figures within their respective localities, the Young Professionals will collaboratively seek avenues to implement the World Heritage Convention effectively in the modern era. Through discussions, they'll acquire deep insights into global principles of World Heritage and Sustainable Development, alongside getting acquainted with the management of India's local heritage. Concluding the Forum, these young professionals will deliver their “Declaration to the 46th session of the World Heritage Committee”.

For more information, please visit: Call for Applications: World Heritage Young Professionals Forum 2024

12. WORLD HERITAGE SITE MANAGERS’ FORUM

As an integral part of the 46th session properties Heritage Committee, the Ministry of Culture, Government of India through its attached office the Archaeological Survey of India, will host the 6th World Heritage Site Managers’ Forum on ‘Heritage and communities: inclusive and effective approaches for the sustainable management of World Heritage properties’. The theme highlights the importance of collaborative and sustainable management practices with the following main topics:

- Understanding the achievements, challenges and opportunities of the World Heritage Convention
- Leveraging the role of communities at all levels of protection and management of World Heritage
- Enhancing capacities to manage change through resilience thinking and impact assessment in the context of World Heritage
- Strengthening sustainable tourism and development through effective management and heritage-based entrepreneurship
- Integrating innovative technologies for the conservation of World Heritage
- Fostering peer-learning and networking of site managers regionally and globally

Heritage and communities are inherently intertwined. The World Heritage Convention encourages community participation in the preservation of cultural and natural heritage, urging State Parties to implement policies aimed at integrating the cultural and natural heritage into the community's life. As such, communities should actively engage in the decision-making, monitoring, and evaluation of World Heritage properties. Presently, there are 1,199 World Heritage sites across 168 countries, which hold significant potential to alleviate poverty and improve sustainable livelihoods, thereby enhancing local community well-being. The upcoming forum will serve as a platform to engage with communities and draw insights from successful frameworks where they contribute to managing World Heritage properties.

The World Heritage property of Humayun’s Tomb, Delhi, will be used as case study during the working sessions, where participants will have the opportunity to learn about the management and structure the property in line with the Forum theme, topics, and resources.

For more information, please visit: Call for Applications to the 6th World Heritage Site Managers’ Forum

13. INDIA

India is often called the Land of Diversity with its rich vibrant cultural Heritage, its variety of languages and dialects, traditions, cuisines, arts and crafts, music, dance and theatre.
Welcome to the kaleidoscope of India's cultural heritage, where diversity dances in harmony and unity binds the nation from east to west. India's vast expanse is a canvas painted with myriad colors, each representing a unique tradition, language, and belief system. Yet, amidst this glorious tapestry of differences, there exists a profound unity that transcends geographical boundaries and unites us all as one.

India ratified the World Heritage Convention (1972) in November 1977. With its rich history and heritage, India has been an active contributor to the Convention, ensuring the identification, protection, conservation and preservation of all its World Heritage properties, securing their effective transmission to future generations and the upholding of the statutes of the World Heritage Convention. As on date, India has 42 World Heritage properties and 57 properties on the Tentative List.

13.1 CLIMATE

Indian climate is broadly classified as a Tropical Monsoon climate. There is however regional variation, throughout the year.

New Delhi situated in the heart of India sees high variation between summer and winter temperatures and precipitation. Summers starts in early April and peaks in mid-May or early June with temperatures varying between 40°C to 45°C. Monsoon starts late June or early July and last till Mid-September. The average temperature during the monsoon shall be around 30-37°C with high humidity. July is the month with the most rainfall in New Delhi, with about 86 mm of precipitation.

Please visit https://mausam.imd.gov.in/delhiums/ for weather-related information.

13.2 TIME ZONE

The Indian Standard Time (IST) is 5 and ½ hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time (GMT +5:30).

13.3 INDIAN CULINARY EXPERIENCE

The Indian culinary repertoire reflects the cultural diversity of the country. The term “Indian food” denotes a mélange of flavours from different parts of the country and showcases centuries of cultural exchange with the far corners of the world. The Indian cuisine offers a rich diverse palette, with much regional variation.

In New Delhi, the capital of India, every street corner and market beckon with the promise of culinary delight. As a melting pot of cultures, Delhi's food scene is a vibrant mosaic, reflecting the rich tapestry of its history, traditions, and diverse communities. There are restaurants dedicated to regional specialties of India such as crisp dosas, vadas and steaming idlis at South Indian Restaurants, to kebabs, curries, biryanis and naan served in eateries in old Delhi offering Mughlai cuisine. Delhi's streets are adorned with stalls offering a variety of refreshing beverages. In addition to branded carbonated drinks, authentic Delhi-style beverages abound. Top picks include flavored lassi, lemon soda (banta), jaljeera, wood apple sherbet (bel ka sharbat), and flavored buttermilk.

Connaught place, one of the most famous and historically significant markets of New Delhi, located near Bharat Mandapam, offers an array of restaurants and markets that serve Indian specialties as well as international cuisines such as Thai, Vietnamese, Chinese, Japanese, Mediterranean, Mexican, Italian, and Lebanese. There’s something for everyone in Delhi and almost all diets may be satiated, be it vegan, vegetarian or any other.

13.4 ENCHANTING DELHI

Delhi, the capital city of India, is a place where ancient history and modern life blend seamlessly. It’s known for its rich heritage, vibrant culture, and a plethora of tourist attractions that cater to all interests.

The history of the city goes back many centuries with Delhi long being associated as the place of the capital city of the Pandavas- Indraprastha. During the medieval period Delhi saw the rise of many fortified settlements, the remains of which can still be identified even today such as Qila Rai Pithora, Purana Qila, Siri, Tuglaqabad, Jahanpanah, Firozabad and Shahjahanbad.

Delhi today is a city of international standing and significance, holding a beautiful balance between preserving the old and the sacred while creating new infrastructure meeting global standards.

There are 3 World Heritage Sites in Delhi:

- Qutb Minar and its Monuments: Rising to a height of 72.5 m, the Qutb Minar has a diameter of 14.32 m at the base and about 2.75 m on the top. The foundation of the Qutb Minar was laid by Qutbuddin Aibak, the first Sultan of Delhi, in 1199 CE. More storeys were added by his successor, Shamsuddin Iltutmish. Around the year 1368 CE, during the rule of Feroz Shah Tuglaq, the uppermost storey which was damaged, was later replaced by two more storeys. This iconic landmark boasts intricate carvings and inscriptions, offering a glimpse into Delhi's medieval past. The site was inscribed on the world Heritage List in 1993.

- Humayun’s Tomb: The Tomb is considered as the first distinct specimen of the Mughal funerary architecture, greatly inspired by the Persian style and a forerunner of the more famous Taj Mahal of Agra. It was built on the banks of river Yamuna by the widow of Humayun, Hamida Banu Begam in 1569 CE. The Tomb was inscribed on the World Heritage list in 1993.

- Red Fort Complex: The Mughal emperor Shah Jahan transferred his capital from Agra to Delhi and laid the foundation of the Red Fort in 1639. The magnificent fort showcases stunning Mughal architecture and houses several museums, including the renowned Indian War Memorial Museum. The Red Fort was inscribed on the World Heritage List in 2007.

Delhi is also one of the most famous tourist destinations of India. Apart from being a part of the ‘Golden Triangle’ (Delhi, Agra, Jaipur), there are numerous spots within the city that attract thousands of tourists. At a stone’s throw distance from the Red Fort is located Old Delhi – the medieval city of the Mughals which offers a one-of-its-kind experience to anyone visiting India for the first time. Here you can savour specialties such as ‘paratha’ at Parathe wali Gali or visit Dariba Kalan for buying silver jewelry. If you are looking for shopping and food under one roof, a visit to Dilli Haat is a must. An endeavor to support the traditional craftsmen of India, Dilli Haat showcases crafts, textiles, fashion and food from all states of the country. It is particularly famous among tourists for souvenir shopping.

Delhi stands as a testament to its rich and varied history, having been a pivotal centre of power for centuries under various empires. Its cultural allure has only grown with time, showcasing a unique blend of ancient charm and modern dynamism. Old Delhi preserves its historical essence with ancient architectural marvels, labyrinthine lanes, bustling markets, and traditional communities, steadfastly holding onto its time-honored values. In contrast, New Delhi gleams with the shine of modernization, embracing progress and innovation.
13.5 CURRENCY & EXCHANGE
The currency in India is called the Indian Rupee (INR), with one Rupee being made up of 100 Paise, although the Paise isn’t used anymore. The symbol for the Rupee is ₹. You will often see it written as ‘Rs’ too. Banknotes come in 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500, while coins are in Rs 1, 2, 5, 10, and 20.

In India, it's easy to change money and make transactions. You can do this at authorized places like exchange bureaus in airports, shopping centers, and other spots in New Delhi. Most major credit cards like Visa, MasterCard, Rupay, Diners and American Express are accepted everywhere. You'll also find plenty of Automated Teller Machines (ATMs) around. People also use revolutionary digital methods like Net banking and UPI Payment.

13.6 GRATUITIES
Restaurants in India generally levy a service charge in the bill over the mandatory government GST taxes. The service charge is voluntary and goes towards staff wages.

At restaurants where a service charge isn’t included, a tip of 5 to 10 % is considered sufficient. Although tipping is voluntary it will be well received.

13.7 ELECTRICITY SUPPLY
For India, the voltage is 220 V and there are three associated plug types, types C, D and M.

Plug type C is the plug which has two round pins. Plug type D and plug type M both have three round pins in a triangular pattern but the pins of Plug type M are larger than Plug type D.

A travel plug adapter may be required if your appliance's plug does not match the shape of these sockets. Hotels will have a limited number of adapters for guest use, so it is recommended to carry your own if needed during your stay.

13.8 SMOKING /CONSUMPTION OF LIQUOR
Smoking and consumption of liquor is prohibited in public spaces under the Indian Law. There are designated spaces offered for smoking in restaurants, hotels, Airports and many workplaces. Alcohol is served in many restaurants and is available for purchase from licensed vendors.

13.9 TELEPHONE, MOBILE & USEFUL PHONE NUMBERS
Roaming agreements are in place with most international phone companies. SIM cards can be purchased at local phone stores (ID required) at Airports, Malls or shopping centers. WhatsApp is widely used for texting, calling and messaging. Alternative apps like Signal, FaceTime are also available.

13.10 MEDICAL CARE

Modern medical care and medicines are available in several hospitals and clinics at New Delhi. Pharmacies are common throughout the city and prescriptions are required for certain type of medicines. Payment at all medical facilities is due at the time of service via cash, card or UPI.

The Host Country will provide a first-aid service for participants at the meeting venue. All other medical services will not be covered.

Participants are expected to assume the costs of any medical treatment that they might receive while in India. It is strongly recommended that medical insurance be purchased in your home country to cover New Delhi as well as any other destinations on your journey. The Host Country will not be responsible for travel and medical insurance costs of the Session participants.
