Patrimonite discovers that his friend, the Earth, is over-heating because of global warming.

Pat hang-glides over Australia and is very unhappy with all the factories and their emissions.

He also sees that there are too many vehicles, which are contributing to global warming.

Global warming impacts on World Heritage Site by bleaching coral and changes biodiversity.

Pat calls all his friends and tells them to be more environmentally friendly.

Every one helps by putting in energy saving light bulbs.

After about a month . . . . .

Patrimonto gets the factories to use wind turbines and families to use clothes lines.

Patrimonito flies over Australia and sees lots and lots of wind turbines.

He travels through time in his solar powered timemachine to.....

the 23rd century.!!!

Patrimonito sees that the reef has recovered from the bleaching and is beautiful again.
