1. Updates on the management of the Centre (Governing Board, Staffing, Operational funding

CLC's goals include developing, compiling and spreading knowledge on preservation, safeguard, management, research and education in the field of cultural and natural heritage, in order to increase management capacity within institutions responsible for preserving cultural and natural properties in the Portuguese- and Spanish-speaking countries of South America (Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, Paraguay, Peru, Uruguay e Venezuela), Africa (Angola, Cabo Verde, Guine-Bissau, Equatorial-Guine, Mozambique and São Tomé e Príncipe) and Asia (Timor Leste).

CLC works within the institutional structure of the Institute of National and Artistic Heritage – IPHAN and presently has a staff of eight officers - architects, historians, art historians, journalists and managers –, also counting on the support of UNESCO consultants. Up to the moment, six countries (Mozambique, Uruguay, Chile, Peru, Ecuador and Colombia) have officially adhered to CLC and Cabo Verde's adhesion is close to completion. According to the agreement settled between Brazilian government and UNESCO, such framework enables the establishment of the multilateral Governing Board, which is scheduled to take place in June, 2015, during the its first ordinary meeting.

In 2015, the Brazilian government allocated a budget of USD 1,0 million for the operation of CLC.

As far as its infrastructure is concerned, Gustavo Capanema Palace (PGC) restoration is in progress and its completion is scheduled to 2016.

2. Programs and activities implemented since March 2014 and planned for the current year

CLC's activities follow the guidelines set by CLC Training Program, which is based on the principles of the exchange of information, the cooperation between professionals and researchers in the field, and the exchange of experiences in heritage preservation, emphasizing its management. The Program was designed to enable CLC to become a reference center, based upon the development of a set of formative activities – research, capacity-building and dissemination – stemming from knowledge production and the establishment of a collaborative network among professionals, researchers and institutions that deal with the preservation of cultural and natural heritage in the Region and in association with UNESCO partners.
