

REGIONAL BALANCE – IUCN EXPERTS

IUCN has ensured that all regions have been represented on the IUCN World Heritage Panel and in evaluation and monitoring missions in the past years. Nevertheless, regional balance is still in need of strengthening. The balance of missions across regions is a determinant of the balance of experts. IUCN has been moving towards a stronger regional balance of the experts deployed over recent decades and is committed to supporting capacity building and to further expanding its expert networks. IUCN also endeavours to send more than one expert on each mission, whenever this is possible, to support exchange and capacity building within mission teams. However, budgetary constraints are an impediment to this effort.
