Theme and topics

Heritage and communities are inherently intertwined. The World Heritage Convention encourages community participation in the preservation of cultural and natural heritage, urging State Parties to implement policies aimed at integrating the cultural and natural heritage into the community's life. As such, communities should actively engage in the decision-making, monitoring, and evaluation of World Heritage properties. Presently, there are 1,199 World Heritage sites across 168 countries, which hold significant potential to alleviate poverty and improve sustainable livelihoods, thereby enhancing local community well-being. The upcoming Forum will serve as a platform to engage with communities and draw insights from successful frameworks where they contribute to managing World Heritage properties. The theme, "Heritage and communities: inclusive and effective approaches for the sustainable management of World Heritage properties," emphasises the importance of collaborative and sustainable management practices with the following main topics:

- Understanding the achievements, challenges and opportunities of the World Heritage Convention

- Leveraging the role of communities at all levels of protection and management of World Heritage
- Enhancing capacities to manage change through resilience thinking and impact assessment in the context of World Heritage
- Strengthening sustainable tourism and development through effective management and heritage-based entrepreneurship
- Integrating innovative technologies for the conservation of World Heritage
- Fostering peer-learning and networking of site managers regionally and globally

Objectives of the Forum

The major objectives of WHSMF24 are:

- To assist site managers through appropriate guidance to harness the potential of World Heritage properties and heritage in general.
- To contribute to sustainable development, notably through the active involvement of local communities at all levels of protection and management of World Heritage and increase the effectiveness and relevance of the World Heritage Convention.
- To strengthen the enabling environment by advocating policies, strategies, frameworks and tools that support sustainable development as an important vehicle for protecting and managing cultural and natural heritage of Outstanding Universal Value.
