Statement of Outstanding Universal Value

Brief synthesis

This Pueblo Indian settlement in northern New Mexico, consisting of ceremonial buildings and facilities, and multi-storey adobe dwellings built in terraced tiers,

Taos Pueblo 2 of 76

exemplifies the living culture of a group of present-day Pueblo Indian people at Taos Pueblo. As one of a series of settlements established in the late 13th and early 14th centuries in the valleys of the Rio Grande and its tributaries that have survived to the present day, Taos Pueblo represents a significant stage in the history of urban, community and cultural life and development in this region. Taos Pueblo has been continuously inhabited and is the largest of these Pueblos that still exist, with its North and South Houses rising to heights of five storeys. Taos Pueblo and the people of the Pueblo itself claim an aboriginal presence in the Taos Valley since time immemorial

Taos Pueblo, whose culture and community are active and thriving, shows many similarities to settlement sites of the ancestral Pueblo people that are preserved in nearby places such Chaco Canyon and Mesa Verde. It is nevertheless unique to this region and not derived from Mesoamerican precedents. The property includes the walled village with two multi-storey adobe structures, seven kivas (underground ceremonial chambers), the ruins of a previous pueblo, four middens, a track for traditional foot-races, the ruins of the first church built in the 1600s and the present-day San Geronimo Catholic Church. The Taos mountains (Sangre de Cristo range of the Rocky Mountains) provide the setting for the Pueblo. Within these mountains is the 19,425-ha Taos Pueblo Blue Lake Wilderness Area, a resource of critical importance to the Pueblo's living culture and agricultural sustainability he Sacred Blue Lake, intrinsically linked to the Pueblo's culture, is the source of a stream that flows through the settlement.

Criterion (iv): Taos Pueblo is a remarkable example of a traditional type of architectural ensemble from the pre-Hispanic period of the Americas unique to this region and one which, because of the living culture of its community, has successfully retained most of its traditional forms up to the present day.

Integrity

Within the boundaries of Taos Pueblo are located all the elements necessary to understand and express the Outstanding Universal Value of the property, including the adobe-walled village with its important historic and prehistoric features inside and outside the walled area. The two main adobe complexes retain their traditional three-dimensional layout. Additions and some limited use of non-native materials have not fundamentally altered the visual impression of the Pueblo or its striking evidence of ancient building traditions. Traditional building customs, techniques and materials have resulted in harmonious construction throughout the walled precinct. The 19.01-ha property is of sufficient size to adequately ensure the complete representation of the features and processes that convey the property's significance, and does not suffer from adverse effects of development and/or neglect. There is currently no buffer zone for the property.

Authenticity

Taos Pueblo is authentic in terms of its location and setting, forms and designs, materials and substance, uses and functions as well as spirit and feeling. The Pueblo has been continuously occupied and cared for by the traditional and culturally-based community. Adobe requires regular maintenance through periodic replastering, which is undertaken as needed by tribal members using traditional materials and methods. Some European-style framed doors and windows were introduced in the 20th century, but these remain limited in scale. The community maintains controls to protect its traditions, including the prohibition within the walled area of electrical power lines and piped water supply. An increasing number of Pueblo residents have homes outside the walled area; however, the old village still serves as the most important focus for intra-village interaction and cultural activities.

The known and potential threats to the authenticity of the property include the following: the growth of the nearby municipality of Taos, which places pressure on the Pueblo to modernize; economic conditions that cause tourism impacts; planned expansion of the existing Taos Regional Airport; and environmental stresses such as forest fires, droughts and floods.

Protection and management requirements

Taos Pueblo is governed by the independent and autonomous Tribal Council, Governor and War Chief. Individual rooms are owned by tribal families but the structures are owned by the community as a whole and are managed as such by the Pueblo's governing body. The Governor's Office is responsible for the day-to-day management and protection of the property. The Pueblo holds the status of a limited-sovereign nation within the boundaries of the United States of America. The site is part of the original Spanish Land Grant (within the Pueblo's aboriginal lands), which is held in trust by the federal government for the benefit of the Pueblo. The federal government has a trust responsibility for the protection and preservation of the Pueblo as a World Heritage Site. This responsibility is fulfilled with respect for its status as a self-governed community. The Pueblo's designation as a National Historic Landmark (1960) requires that any federal government undertakings that may affect or impact the property must be carefully considered, and the federal agencies must consult with the Pueblo before initiating any action.

The Pueblo has always had a comprehensive unwritten preservation strategy that is carried out by tribal members, with scrupulous respect for traditional materials and techniques. These traditions and practices have protected Taos Pueblo's structures for centuries through an active monitoring program by the Pueblo's traditional government and decision-making process. This ensures that the living culture and associated historic structures and landscapes are maintained and functional. The National Park Service is providing assistance to the Pueblo to develop a written management and preservation plan as well. The Pueblo attracts large numbers of visitors and has a formal tourism program which plans to establish a visitor centre. The Pueblo is closed to visitors on certain ceremonial occasions, and some areas are not accessible to visitors.

Sustaining the Outstanding Universal Value of the property over time will require protecting it from the continuing challenges of adverse effects, which include environmental stresses such as erosion from rain and snow, forest fires, droughts and floods. It will also require ensuring that any developments within or near Taos Pueblo do not have negative impacts on the property's values, authenticity and integrity.

Taos Pueblo is located over two miles from the center of Town of Taos. The town has made changes to road systems, hotel ownership (on multiple hotels), the private resident rentals are increasing, etc. The tribe has plans for development that should assist with visitor impacts such as trespassing, ignorance prior to entering the community, and assist in creating a learning environment prior to entering the community. There are positives and negatives to the development happening.

The Town of Taos made improvements to the local airport which impacts the airspace for the site. The tribe continues to have issues with airspace issues with aircraft flying directly over the UNESCO Site. Roadways and infrastructure for tribal members are being implemented. A road way near the site could have negative impact on the UNESCO site.

The Pueblo Government and Town of Taos have settled a major water settlement which impacts water use: includes impacts on natural materials for traditional construction. The Town of Taos is making changes to the needs and adaptations of the people. This includes: new roadways, fiber optics, cellphone towers. more people around tribal lands = to trespassing issues and re- educating people about the pueblo community.

Currently Taos Pueblo sits in a position where there is development happening. There is development currently happening in the direct surrounding Taos Pueblo community, Town of Taos, and Taos Ski Valley. The community of Taos Pueblo surrounds the site, due to the living community in and around the site there will always be environmental impact.

Due to the multistoried buildings of Taos Pueblo. The structures are higher than any other building in the area. Either sees issues occur with natural impacts. Currently, the community still utilizes the area for family and cultural practices. Standard human wear and tear is common. Other natural elements such as wind, rain, etc. also occur, but the community maintains the structures/homes as they are an essential part of the community and cultural connection.

As the community grows and creates new initiatives for the people to live a sustainable lifestyle in this area, there will be more strain on the environmental state of the Taos Pueblo land and surrounding area. At this time we have entrepreneurs who maneuvered into the cosmetic, body, and healing industry. With a growing community and creation of job opportunity there will be areas of growth that impact the positively and negatively.

Human impact on Taos Pueblo is definitely an issue that is internal and external. As long at we continue to allow visitors/tourist directly into the village we will always have direct impact. Community members will always have impact due to the daily routines of home owners, occupants, shop keepers/owners.

The Taos area does not see as many natural disasters as other parts of the world. We do live in a dormant volcanic area. High wind with dust causes for natural erosion on the site, but is mediated with yearly maintenance. Due to the high desert climate, the area is subject to wildfire.

Increase in tourism creates impact and need to assess how far does the community proceed? How many visitors is too many? These questions are support for generating an impact study or cultural study after pandemic.

- 5. Protection and Management of the Property
- 5.1. Boundaries and Buffer Zones

5.1.1 - Are the boundaries of the World Heritage property adequate to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value?

The boundaries are adequate to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value

5.1.2 - Are the boundaries of the World Heritage property known and recognised?

The boundaries are known by both the management authority and local communities/landowners

5.1.3 - Are the buffer zone(s) of the World Heritage property adequate to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value?

The property has no buffer zone and does not need one

5.1.4 - Are the boundaries of the buffer zones known and recognised?

The property has no known and recognised buffer zone

5.1.5 - Comments, conclusions and/or recommendations related to boundaries and buffer zones of the World Heritage property

5.2. Protective Measures

5.2.1 - Protective designation (legal, regulatory, contractual, planning, institutional and/or traditional).

Taos Pueblo is a self-governing sovereign community that has resided at its present location and in its surrounding aboriginal area of occupation since time immemorial. The Village of Taos Pueblo is the spiritual and physical core of the people. Individual components of the Pueblo structures may be owned by or assigned to families or individuals but in its entirety, is owned by the community as a whole. The Pueblo's governing and cultural structure determines and makes decisions that affect the village, the facilities, the activities, and way of life in order to preserve the spiritual and physical integrity of the place as a whole. As such, management is under the Pueblo's governing body that includes the Tribal Council. Specifically, the Governor's Office is responsible for the day-to-day management and protection of the property. The cultural importance of the village and structures and their use for such purposes obligates the people and its governing body to ensure proper management.

Although the property is under the direct management of the Pueblo governing body, its protection is supported by its status as a National Historic Landmark and as a site listed on the National Register of Historic Places with protective measures outlined by the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended. Any federal undertakings that may affect or impact the property must be carefully considered, and the federal agencies must consult with the Pueblo, before initiating any such action.

Taos Pueblo is also supported in the protection of its property through its inscription on the World Heritage List at the 16th session of the World Heritage Committee when the Committee took note of the agreement between the U.S. Government and Taos Pueblo Tribal Council on interpretation of the United States' trust responsibility for the protection of the Taos Pueblo as a World Heritage site. This responsibility includes appropriate legal, moral, and financial support necessary to assure respect for, and the protection of those cultural traditions, natural resources, and practices which the Pueblo's leadership considers sacred and necessary for the continuity of the community.

The Committee also took note, in this regard, of the additional agreement between the U.S. and Taos Pueblo on the latter's status as a selfgoverned community, and that any action undertaken by the United States in carrying out its trust responsibility for the protection and preservation of the Pueblo be conducted in a manner that involves the full knowledge, participation, and prior approval of the Pueblo's duly elected leadership.

The legal status of Taos Pueblo property falls under the ownership of the Pueblo itself. The Pueblo holds the status of limited-sovereign nation within the boundaries of the United States. As such, the larger Pueblo lands are composed of Spanish land grants (recognized by the U.S. government), trust lands (held by the United States government in trust for the tribe), and fee-simple lands owned and controlled directly by the Pueblo. The World Heritage Site of Taos Pueblo is part of the original Spanish Land Grant (within the Pueblo's aboriginal lands) which is held in trust by the U.S. government for the benefit of the Pueblo.

5.2.2 - Please list any legislation and other measures (regulatory -including spatial planning- contractual, institutional or traditional) not included in 5.2.1 and indicate the category

Taos Pueblo 61 of 76

5.2.3 - Is the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation including spatial planning) adequate for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Integrity and/or Authenticity of the property?

An adequate legal framework for maintaining of the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity of the World Heritage property exists but there are some deficiencies in implementation

5.2.4 - Is the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation) adequate in the buffer zone for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Integrity and/or Authenticity of the property?

An adequate legal framework in the buffer zone for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity of the World Heritage property exists but there are some deficiencies in implementation

5.2.5 - Is the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation) in the broader setting of the World Heritage property adequate for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Integrity and/or Authenticity of the property?

An adequate legal framework exists for the broader setting of the World Heritage property, but there are some deficiencies in implementation which undermine the maintenance of the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity of the property

5.2.6 - Can the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation) be enforced?

There is acceptable capacity/resources to enforce legislation and/or regulation in the World Heritage property but some deficiencies of enforcement remain

5.2.7 - Please provide a short summary of how the legislation, including spatial planning and other regulation, works in practice

Taos Pueblo is a federally recognized tribe with sovereignty standards. Due to the site being a "living space" there are protections in place to protect the area and the people through tribal resources. There have been Tribal Council instituted trespassing laws. There is still a question of enforcement and prosecution.

5.2.8 - Comments, conclusions and/or recommendations about the information related to the measures taken to protect the World Heritage property

- 5.3. Management System/Management Plan
- 5.3.1 Please check the box which most closely match the character of the governance and management system of the property Other

If 'Other', please specify

Tribal government management

5.3.2 - Management System: Please indicate which of the various management tools listed below are used to help protect the property.

Traditional ways of management recognised by local communities and other specific groups

Governance mechanisms that foster and respect traditional practices, knowledge and uses of the property

Agreed 'Memorandums of Understanding' between different managing institutions, groups or others, including documents agreed with local communities for management

5.3.3 - Please give a brief description of the management system currently in place at your property

Taos Pueblo is currently managed under the Tribal Government body with the implementation of the Taos Pueblo Tourism Office and Preservation Program. The Tourism Office maintains and works with the visitation and the face of the community. Preservation works directly with the maintenance of the site and the maintaining historical context in construction.

5.3.4 - Management Documents

5.3.5 - Has any use been made of the 2011 Recommendation on the Historic Urban Landscape in developing policies and best practices for the protection of this property?

No use has been made of the 2011 Recommendation on the Historic Urban Landscape

- 5.3.6 If the Historic Urban Landscape Recommendation has been used at this property, please describe briefly what has been done.
- 5.3.7 Has any use been made of the Policy Document on the Impacts of Climate Change on World Heritage Properties at the property?

No use has been made of the World Heritage Policy for Climate Change

- 5.3.8 If the Climate Change policy has been used, please briefly describe what has been done along with any research on the impacts of Climate Change on the property:
- 5.3.9 Has any use been made of the Strategy for Reducing Risks from Disasters at World Heritage Properties at the property?

 No use has been made of the Strategy for Reducing Risks from Disasters at World Heritage Properties
- 5.3.10 If the Strategy for Reducing Risks from Disasters at World Heritage Properties has been used, please briefly describe what has been done

5.3.11 - Rate the coordination between the various levels of administration (i.e. national/federal; regional/provincial/state; local/municipal etc.) involved in the management of the World Heritage property

There is little coordination between the range of administrative bodies involved in the management of the property

5.3.12 - Is the management system/plan adequate to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value?

The management system/plan is only partially adequate to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value

Taos Pueblo 62 of 76

5.3.13 - Is the management system being implemented?

The management system is being only partially implemented

5.3.14 - Is there an annual work/action plan and is it being implemented?

An annual work/action plan exists and many of its activities are being implemented

5.3.15 - Does the management system include formal mechanisms and procedures that ensure participation and contribution of the following groups, living within or near the World Heritage property and/or buffer zone in management decisions that maintain the Outstanding Universal Value of the property?

5.3.18 - Please provide further details on the ratings of the management system given in the table above

The site is directly under the Tribal Government traditional guidelines as far as management. The Tourism Office takes on the responsibility of the tourist interactions, daily operations, marketing, events, community engagement for the entrepreneur space of the community. Tribal Government and Preservation work on what is ethically acceptable for development or preservation within the site.

5.3.19 - Comments, conclusions and/or recommendations related to the management system/plan

Taos Pueblo is in need of a feasibility study to identify the impact of tourism on the community and it cultural value. There is concern about the environmental impact of tourism verses the financial gain the tribe and individual tribal members see. Can the community afford the accessibility of the site. The tourism industry is in need of diversifying for the community to move away from the dependency of financial gain over preservation. Eco tourism development exploration.

6. Financial and Human Resources

6.1. Funding
