4.7.9 - Please comment as necessary on how the factors selected as relevant in 4.7 are affecting the property either negatively or positively

Due to constant water rise and heavy seasonal rains there is increased negative effect of microorganisms and fungi on mortars, plasters, mosaics and stone in the Complex. The setting of dust on uncovered mosaic surfaces can have negative effect in the long run on their visibility and preservation. The constant increase of UV levels in the summer and warm months can have negative effect on mosaics and bring the loss of their colors and vibrancy. Stronger winds can cause erosion of stone surfaces

4.8.7 - Please comment as necessary on how the factors selected as relevant in 4.8 are affecting the property either negatively or positively

The property is in constant religious and cultural use by the owner and the local community. The increase in visitor numbers in Poreča has a positive effect on the local population because it brings significant increase of revenue. Tourism has a potential negative effect because of the multiplication of limited contents (tourist accommodation, souvenir shops, restaurants) in the area and the loss of other activities vital for the local community. It also decreases the number of local residents.

4.10.8 - Please comment as necessary on how the factors selected as relevant in 4.10 are affecting the property either negatively or positively

Storms accompanied by torrential rains cause flooding in the property due to inefficient drainage system and high sea water levels. Flooding is also connected to constant rise in sea water levels in the Mediterranean basin, which is also a cause for ground water flooding. Slow but constant rise in sea water temperature is connected to presence of damaging microorganisms and fungi on mosaics, stone and plaster. Flooding has a damaging effect on bedding layer of the mosaics.

4.11.7 - Please comment as necessary on how the factors selected as relevant in 4.11 are affecting the property either negatively or positively

Istria as a whole is not in danger of earthquakes, but potential earthquakes in the Adriatic basin can cause tidal waves which can cause flooding on the western coast of Istria, including Poreč. Seasonal flooding causes slow but constant erosion of soil beneath the mosaics in the archaeological area of the complex.

4.13.9 - Please comment as necessary on how the factors selected as relevant in 4.13 are affecting the property either negatively or positively

The legal framework is sufficient, but the management plan is outdated. The lack of implementation plan results only in short term conservation activities. Management activities and research in the field of conservation are well planned and regularly conducted. Monitoring of conservation status was reintroduced in 2019. after a 7 year pause., as well as different conservation activities. There is no detailed and efficient monitoring of visitor numbers and collected fees. Financing is stable.

4.14. Other factor(s)

4.14.1 - Other factor(s)

The lack of regular monitoring of visitor numbers means there is no real possibility to estimate the impact of potential tourist overflowing, avoid crowds and create a operational risk management plan. Date pertaining the amount of collected fees is unavailable (the owner Pore and Pula Episcopal Ordinarate refuses to share information on the amount of collected fees on annual level).

5. Protection and Management of the Property

5.1. Boundaries and Buffer Zones

5.1.1 - Are the boundaries of the World Heritage property adequate to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value?

The boundaries are adequate to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value

5.1.2 - Are the boundaries of the World Heritage property known and recognised?

The boundaries are known by both the management authority and local communities/landowners

5.1.3 - Are the buffer zone(s) of the World Heritage property adequate to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value?

The buffer zones do not limit the ability to maintain the property's Outstanding Universal Value but they could be improved

5.1.4 - Are the boundaries of the buffer zones known and recognised?

The buffer zones of the World Heritage property are known and recognised by the management authority but are not known by local communities/landowners

5.1.5 - Comments, conclusions and/or recommendations related to boundaries and buffer zones of the World Heritage property

The buffer zone of the property is not formally recognized and registered by the World Heritage Committee and it does not make a part of the inscribed WH property. It is recognized by the local and national heritage authorities as the Historic Core of Pore, protected as a cultural good. It is not recognized by the municipal authorities and landowners of the adjoining properties, nor is it registered in the local planning documents. There is a need for precise definition of a buffer zone.

5.2. Protective Measures

5.2.1 - Protective designation (legal, regulatory, contractual, planning, institutional and/or traditional).

The 1999 Law on the Protection and Preservation of Cultural Goods regulates the following issues:

- The notion and the types of cultural goods which are to be protected;
- The procedure of establishment of the characteristics of cultural goods, and the establishment of the protection of cultural goods;
- Preventive protection of cultural goods;
- Establishment of a Register of Cultural Goods of the Republic of Croatia;
- Responsibilities and rights of the owner or the bearer of other rights on a cultural good;
- Restrictions of ownership of a cultural good;
- Measures for the protection and preservation of a cultural goods, and the supervision of the state of cultural goods;
- Performance of duties connected with the protection and preservation of cultural goods, as well as the scope and tasks of competent authorities;
- Performance of activities of research, study, preservation, restoration, maintenance, reconstruction, use and trafficking in cultural goods;
- Setting up and scope of the Croatian Council for Cultural Goods;
- Administrative and expert supervision, and inspection;
- Securing resources for the protection and preservation of cultural goods;
- Violation of provisions in the area of protection and preservation of cultural goods.

This Law introduces the category of endangered cultural goods, inspired by the UNESCO List of Endangered World Heritage. Among other things, this novelty introduces definitions, notions and provisions of international conventions in the Croatian legal system.

5.2.2 - Please list any legislation and other measures (regulatory -including spatial planning- contractual, institutional or traditional) not included in 5.2.1 and indicate the category

1999 / Law on the Protection and Preservation of Cultural Goods of the Republic of Croatia / Spatial plan of the City of Poreč ; Master urban development plan of the City of Poreč /

5.2.3 - Is the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation including spatial planning) adequate for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Integrity and/or Authenticity of the property?

An adequate legal framework for maintaining of the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity of the World Heritage property exists but there are some deficiencies in implementation

5.2.4 - Is the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation) adequate in the buffer zone for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Integrity and/or Authenticity of the property?

An adequate legal framework in the buffer zone for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity of the World Heritage property exists but there are some deficiencies in implementation

5.2.5 - Is the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation) in the broader setting of the World Heritage property adequate for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Integrity and/or Authenticity of the property?

An adequate legal framework exists for the broader setting of the World Heritage property, but there are some deficiencies in implementation which undermine the maintenance of the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity of the property

5.2.6 - Can the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation) be enforced?

There is acceptable capacity/resources to enforce legislation and/or regulation in the World Heritage property but some deficiencies of enforcement remain

5.2.7 - Please provide a short summary of how the legislation, including spatial planning and other regulation, works in practice

The national legislation provides adequate framework for the enforcement of protective measures, but there are some deficiencies in their implementation. The City of Poreč is provided with the basic spatial planning documents which in coordination with the national legal framework provide high level of protection for the WH site and most of the buffer zone. Buffer zone is not recognized by current spatial and master development plans, but the measures can be enforced.

5.2.8 - Comments, conclusions and/or recommendations about the information related to the measures taken to protect the World Heritage property

There is only limited possibility to apply protective measures in the wider area, important for the protection of a characteristic outline of the property and its integrity. The boundaries of a buffer zone should be specified and regulated. A detailed conservation study for the Historic Core of Poreč is necessary for the implementation of protective measures in the wider area through planning provisions. That way the implementation of protective measures will also be in the municipal domain.
